Freeze Her Hands.

A little girl in our village went to one of our primary schools the coldest morning this winter without her mittens. The teacher heard a loud crying at the door and on opening it there stood the little girl with her fingers and hands frozen stiff so they could not be bent.

The teacher got the child in and immediately held her hands in snow as well as she could, the child screaming with pain and declaring she would not put her hands in the snow. They called in assistants and soon the family physician at the child's home rode by the schoolhouse. He was called in and took the child to her home. Her mittens were found at her home, where she left them, and she recovered from the unpleasant experience with no lasting bad effect.

Services at the Universalist Church.

Sunday, Jan. 31, is to be Young People's day in the Universalist churches. The morning service will be conducted by members of the Y. P. C. U.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the Juniors will meet instead of 5 o'clock as is their custom.

The evening will be devoted to the district rally of the Y. P. C. U., and the Unions at West Paris and South Paris will be present. At 6 o'clock there will be a social hour to give all a chance to become acquainted with the State President, Stanley G. Spear of Dexter.

The meeting will be opened at 6.30 with exercises by the Juniors and followed with exercises by the Seniors.

Addresses from the Unions representing will be given and also an address by the president, Mr. Spear.

Norway Lake Water Pure.

Director H. D. Evans of the Laboratory of Hygiene, Augusta, reports on the condition of Penesseewassee Lake water from which source the public water supply for the two villages is taken, as follows:

Mr. S. D. Andrews, Norway, Maine.

DEAR SIR:—I enclose the results of the analysis of the sample of water from your public supply, sent to me on the 20th instant.

This analysis shows the water to be in first-class condition to use for drinking purposes. It is entirely free from any evidence of sewage pollution, whether chemical or bacterial, while the recent rains have had much less effect on this water than upon many other cold waters of the State. Very truly yours,

H. D. EVANS, Director.

Walter S. Chandler is rapidly convalescing.

Waterford and Norway Dairy Association will meet at Norway Grange hall, 130 p. m. Wednesday, February 3rd, Dairy instructor D. S. Merrill is expected to be present. A general invitation is extended to all who are interested in dairying ladies included.

About 140 attended "The Merry Widow" at Lewiston, on Monday evening. All were pleased with the play and claim to have got their money's worth especially in their ride home. They arrived home about 2 o'clock in the morning and rode all the time after the theatre out till that time to cover the 20 miles by rail.

Rev. Wilbur F. Berry, D. D., president of Maine Wesleyan Seminary and Woman's College, Kent's Hill, will preach at the Norway Methodist church next Sunday morning, Jan. 31. This is a rare opportunity of hearing Dr. Berry and everybody should hear him especially teachers and young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeland Howe, Jr., entertained a family dinner party at the Pungow, Friday, in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Freeland Howe, Jr. The decorations were in red and white carnations and Mrs. Howe received a big bouquet of these flowers. The birthday cake was decorated with carnations and Mrs. Howe received an amethyst brooch set in silver, the birthday surprise from her family.

The L. O. G. T. had an interesting session last Monday evening. The district inspector Mr. Tuttle of Lisbon Falls was present and made an official report and highly commended the lodge for its excellent work and marked success, but his speech and readings added much to the good of the order. All had an appetite for the excellent oyster stew prepared for the occasion. Installation of officers next Monday evening.

NUMBER 5.

Eighty Years Old.

The home of Mrs. Clara A. Hayden on Pleasant street was the scene of a very pleasant occasion, Monday, Jan. 25th, when her children and grandchildren gathered to celebrate the anniversary of her eightieth birthday. Mrs. Hayden had twelve children, nine of whom are now living and who were present at this celebration with the exception of Mrs. Emma I. Chaffin and Henry B. Hayden of Buckfield, who were unable to attend on account of the storm.

The party was a complete surprise to Mrs. Hayden who had been invited to take dinner with her son Eugene. However she was equal to the occasion and soon showed that she was the youngest one of the party in spirit, at least.

The arrangements had been made by the Massachusetts children, who came to Portland the day before in order to take the early morning train for Norway. Their plans were made known to Mrs. Eugene Hayden who prepared a turkey dinner which was served in the pleasant dining room of the home.

The decorations consisted of violets together with eighty carnations. In the center of table was a very large, handsomely decorated birthday cake, surrounded by eighty wax tapers.

At the close of the dinner, Frank Knight gave a very appropriate and impressive speech, which was much appreciated by all the members of the family.

The day passed all too quickly with its fun and merry making and many were the expressions of love and esteem in which Mrs. Hayden is held not only by her own family and those who have been received into it, but from friends, neighbors, clergy and out of town acquaintances. The esteem was manifested by many gifts, the more substantial being in the form of gold coins.

Those who were present to celebrate this occasion were Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Drake; Mr. and Mrs. John Hayden and daughter, Amy and Pauline, of South Paris; Mr. and Mrs. E. Gene Hayden and daughter, Madeline; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hayden and son, Carl, of Haverhill, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Knight and son, George, of Manchester, Mass.; Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hayden of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Winchester and son, Marshall, of Manchester, Mass.; Miss Mary Chaffin and J. B. Chaffin, Jr., of Buckfield.

Reuben in New York and Reuben Glue.

"Reuben in New York" was presented at the Norway Opera House, Monday evening, to a fair sized audience considering the weather and other attractions of the evening. The acting was good and the play was an interesting one. The opening scene was at Max Gregg's house in New York, where the detective, disclosed, and Dan Kelley, the detective, decided to see Pansy Homer, the girl he loves, who is a little wait of the street, receive the money which rightly belongs to her from Gregg, a gambler. Here Reuben Joskins comes to New York from Slabtown, Ct., and is termed decidedly "green" by all he meets, and some of the situations were extremely funny. As time goes on and after many experiences in the big city he meets Kelley, the detective, and tells him his history and that he was in New York to find Pansy Homer, his granddaughter. Kelley tells him where he could find her. The last act finds them all united on the farm in Connecticut and ends with Gregg and Holtz, the swindlers, conquered by Reuben, Dan Kelley and the ladies.

Reuben Joskins, inventor from Slabtown, Ct., (known to the world as G. M. Brown) in his new play, "Reuben in New York" at Norway Opera House, Monday evening, proved himself an actor of "no mean proportions." He raised gales after gale of laughter.

Tuesday evening, the company gave "Reuben Glue," a comedy. The scenes are laid in England and Australia, and Reuben Glue, a Yankee genius in these "pastures new" cuts a wide swath. He was particularly desirous of seeing a real live lord. Mr. Brown has played Reuben twice before and the play and the acting were so well liked that he was requested to play it here again.

In his speech Mr. Brown stated it was much harder to play before a Norway audience than before a New York audience. Then he went on to explain that in a large city there were many play houses, some devoted to comedy, some to tragedy, others to vaudeville, to concerts, to music. In fact each one could suit his own individual taste in going to a place of amusement. Here all went to one place and all expected to be entertained in their own way.

A. O. U. W. Installation.

On Monday evening Jan. 25 at the regular meeting of Mystic Lodge, No. 101, the following officers were installed by grand over-seer J. H. McMahon of Waterville:

P. M. W.—Willis G. Ayers.
M. W.—Daniel F. Delia.
E. J.—Johnston M. Martin.
O.—Joseph Martineau.
Sec.—John F. Mason.
Reg.—Freeman M. Bennett.
Guide—Levi A. Marton.
I. W.—William H. Parker.
O. W.—Charles Amiot.

After the installation the lodge listened to a short address by the grand over-seer who spoke of the excellent condition of the order, the membership being more than 6000 in this state and the reserve fund in the grand lodge of Maine being $164,000 which very creditable condition was the result of the careful management of the grand lodge officers during the past five years.

The members present were very much pleased with the showing made and after partaking of a lunch a social hour was enjoyed, the members separating at a late hour.

The seniors of the N. H. S. are to have a social this Friday evening at Congregational hall. Good music and a long program expected and all are invited.

"Take my word for it, you will have another chance to vote for Bryan for President." This was the statement of S. H. E. Burham, president of the First National Bank of Lincoln, Neb., when he was in Atlantic City, Jan. 21st.

Mrs. Eugene Lynch who was killed in the Republic disaster was a personal friend of Freeland Howe, Jr., of Norway, Mr. and Mrs. Lynch have been for years at Upper Dam camp for the spring and fall fishing and it was there they became acquainted.

Eugene N. Swett and George P. Downing were drawn as traverse jurors for the March term of the S. J. court, Saturday, by the town officers.

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER
(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

JANUARY 29, 1909, NORWAY, MAINE.

The Norway Grange.

There were many at the Grange last Saturday afternoon and everybody wore expectant faces. The business meeting began at 1 o'clock and throughout that period the hall was being quietly filled by both Paris and Norway members. When the Worthy Master declared the meeting in charge of the Paris Lecturer, A. E. Morse rose with dignity and bearing upon his Patrons, who seemed to be on hand in numbers full, asked everyone to join in singing "Old Folks at Home."

Here then called on Frank Richards for Current Events. Mr. Richards said that not long ago he'd given some Current Events at Paris Grange and that either Mr. Morse was so displeased he wanted to try him again, or he was so pleased he took him visiting with him to show him off. Preferring to assume the latter, and feeling sure that this was the true of Mr. Morse's life, he did not wish to disappoint him, so gave a paper on "Farm Cultivation" that was beneficial to every farmer. Mr. Albert Ryerson's paper, "Hundred Economy" was equally beneficial to the women.

Frank Pike sang "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" with much expression and responded to the hearty encore.

Rev. H. L. Little, when called on, said Mr. Morse had intended giving him a chance to practice at Paris, but circumstances prevented, so Norway had his lecture first with all its crudeness. Mr. Little gave an able and instructive discourse on "The Three Greatest Evils of Our Country," naming excessive pleasure seeking and drink, unjust combinations and child labor as the evils that cause so much disaster and distress to humanity. Their desire cause he plainly traced to the love of money or covetousness, and in each case proved that "Money is the root of all evil."

Rev. M. C. Ward, though of Norway Grange, was asked to speak on the question, and he emphasized by a clear word picture the evils of child labor. He described the little children in the cities, some of them as young as three years, put to work smoothing tobacco leaves and spreading nuchage on artificial flowers, till dwarfed and injured, mind and body at some day they become the anarchists of our country, bating society and the laws that allow their condition to be thus. He asks us, can we blame them? He ended by reciting a poem of will dwarfed and injured, caused by the evils of child labor. Barbara Chapman rendered a piano solo with such seeming ease she was compelled to play for the audience again. A duet by Mrs. Edwards and Miss Berry was much enjoyed and also, the encore.

Mrs. Ryerson's reading, "Mary's Little Lamb," was entirely new and earnestly applauded. She then gave a boy's perspective of "pickles," that kept the people laughing throughout.

Mr. Durban expressed his opinion on what is the greatest evil and where it begins, saying he believed it to be in the cradle when mother says, "Johnny, if you don't keep still I'll slap you. But Johnny never did stop and he never was wiggled. Mr. Durban's maxim seemed to be, "Always speak the truth," and if the truth should not be spoken at all times when you do speak, speak it.

Mr. Farrar favored us with an original poem written for Geraldine Farrar, world-famed singer. Mr. King, when called on, begged to be excused as it was getting late.

Mr. Morse announced a song by Miss Chapman and Mrs. Rowe as the last, and his program having been of so much interest, he nearly escaped without giving his number, but Norway's Lecturer said he must have forgotten to call his own name so she would for him. He quickly bowed and withdrew work and started on the stage as Marie Ann proceeded to relate her courtship and marriage with Hannibal Hawkins. Funny? Just imagine.

Dr. H. P. Jones has returned from a trip to Boston.

Dr. Will Trefethen was called to Norway, Wednesday on business.

Steve Robinson, who has been sick with the gripe the past week, is gaining.

The Universalist sewing circle will meet with Carrie Tucker, Friday evening.

Emma Abbott spent Sunday at her home and returned to Lewiston, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jameson Finney have been visiting at Dr. B. F. Bradbury's the past week.

G. W. Q. Forham was in town Wednesday purchasing some horses of H. F. & E. E. Andrews.

The Mothers' Club at the Lake will give a supper and sociable in their hall, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Bickford and daughter Kaye are guests at the home of Mrs. Emma J. Bickford.

"Moses Spinney," the shoe factory cat, came near killing a dog the other day. It was driven from the factory and badly scratched.

Frank Eastman of the Harrison and Norway stage says after Feb. 1st will make three trips per week, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Harry Horne, who is teaching at Mt. Vernon, is home this week on account of the illness of several other teachers and will return Monday.

The Norway and South Paris lodges, N. F. O. P., are invited over to Roswell Frost's this Friday evening. Sociable and dance and a good time will be had.

The New Idea society will meet with Mrs. L. I. Gilbert next Wednesday afternoon. There are 33 members in this society and a good deal of interest is manifested.

The annual voyage of Oxford lodge, No. 1, Ark Mariners, was made Wednesday evening and several candidates were initiated. After the work a banquet was served.

The G. A. R. and other patriotic societies of Norway will attend the morning services at the Universalist church, Feb. 14, the Sunday nearest the centennial of Lincoln's birthday.

Those interested in music are organizing a chorus to practice the music of the Maine Festival. The first rehearsal was held last week at Horne's cafe, and Wednesday evening the second one will be held at the same place. Mrs. H. L. Horne is to direct the chorus this year.

The C. P. C. of New York City has sent a traveling memorial library of 150 volumes to Christ church for the use of the general guild. Books may be loaned of Velma Wenzel, librarian, at her home Mondays from 4.30 to 5, and Fridays from 6.30 to 7.30 p. m.

The many friends of Mrs. Emma J. Bickford will be glad to know that she is making home this Thursday. She is making a splendid recovery after an operation for the removal of gall stones. The operation was performed at the Vincent Memorial hospital, Boston. She has been with her daughter, Mrs. Carroll at Haverhill, Mass., during her convalescence.

On Wednesday evening, the Epworth League held a business meeting and social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac P. Cobb on Green street. About thirty young people came to enjoy themselves.

After the business was transacted, the meeting was closed and all enjoyed themselves in different ways, such as singing, playing games, "chatting," etc. Refreshments were served. After the evening had been well spent the party broke up thanking Mr. and Mrs. Cobb for the evening's entertainment.

Last Thursday evening Carl Tower gave a private recital at his home on lower Main street, for the benefit of his pupils. Marguerite Swan and Richard Stills played several selections and Mr. Tower read an instructive paper. Refreshments were served. Mr. Tower plans to give one of these recitals each month during the winter and have different pupils play at each recital and the papers to be read will be on different authors and in this way the pupils will become acquainted with the lives of the various authors.

Notwithstanding the storm last Sabbath there were quite a number of people gathered at the Methodist church for the closing service of E. A. Corbett, "The Business Man's Evangelist." In the evening seats and chairs were brought in to seat the people, and then people went away without seats. The singing by the large chorus and impressive solos by Mrs. Robinson, with the stirring and powerful address of Mr. Corbett including the chapter of his early experience made the service very interesting and the real response of the people in testimony by those who had been helped by the evangelist or lead to Christ by him gave great evidence of the success of these meetings. The longer Mr. Corbett stayed, the more the people enjoyed him and greater the results. The influence of this work must be lasting for good and long remembered by many. Mr. Corbett not only enjoyed the people but was delighted with the town, and plans to come again with his family for a vacation the coming season.

E. G. Everett lives on the Capt. Charles Green place on the Harrison road and has for some years past. He lives alone as the saying is, meaning he does his own housework, such as cooking, ironing, mending, without feminine assistance. When asked about it he has answered he said "Yes, I'm alone in the house excepting three dogs and five cats. I'm pretty busy and don't have much time to read. I got a World Almanac last year and I read it much. Can't find the World Almanac for this year. I've been busy with the S. J. Government is suing them for libel." Mr. Everett has eight cow kind and three calves to care for, eight porkers, 35 pigs, two colts, two horses and with his housework and 87 acres of land he is busy from morning until night. When asked why he didn't have a housekeeper he said "They are more bother than to do the work."

The Clerks' Ball.

The Clerks' Ball, which is looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure, takes place Tuesday evening at the Norway Opera House. The committee on decorations have engaged Elmer E. Brown of Portland to decorate for the occasion. The decorations are to be red, white and blue. Bunting and flags will be used. This affair will be one of the prettiest of the season and no little amount of work and money is being expended to make it the best of its four-year predecessors.

Before the dance there will be a concert by the orchestra of 14 pieces, led by Holden. The order of dances consists of twenty numbers. Stuart W. Goodwin will be floor manager. At intermission a turkey supper will be served at the Elm House by the proprietor and land lord, Ellsworth Young. During the dance spring water will be served in the hall by Ed. Rich. Everything points to a very fine affair and every one is invited to either dance or to watch the dancers. Tickets are on sale at Stone's drug store.

For years Norway had an exclusive on clerks' ball, but now in many sections of the State they have the very popular affairs.

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS.

Do Not Endanger Life When a Norway Citizen Shows You the Cure.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them?

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure your- Bright's disease sets in. Read this Norway testimony:

Geo. H. Buswell, living on Marston street, Norway, Me., says: "About six months ago my kidneys became disordered and I began to suffer from dull pains across the small of my back. A languid feeling hung over me, and I was unable to rest well. I soon noticed that the kidney secretions were too frequent in action, although the passages were scanty. My body felt bloated and I was also troubled with dull headaches. I learned that Doan's Kidney Pills had cured other persons of similar troubles, and deciding to try them, I procured a box from Stone's drug store. They cured me and I am perfectly free from kidney complaint at the present time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Cat and the Mouse.

About twelve people can best play this game, although a larger number can play if there is room enough for them to romp around in a circle.

All but two of the party join hands in a circle. One of the two stays within the circle and is called the mouse, and the other remains outside and is called the cat.

To begin the game the children with their hands clasped must start going round in a circle, at the same time moving their arms up and down. The mouse, who is inside, runs out through a convenient opening, and the cat dashes in.

Then all the arms are suddenly lowered so that the cat cannot escape. The cat cries "Mew, mew!" and tries to find an exit. She soon manages to escape from the circle and pursues the mouse, who tries to save herself by again running into the ring.

Should she get in with the cat on the outside the cat must pay a forfeit, and if the mouse is caught she herself must pay a forfeit.

The cat and mouse name their successors, and the game is started again.

Deserved a Cracker.

Here is the story of a parrot that protected her master's home from burglars. The thieves entered through one of the front parlor windows, crept through the hall, passed the bird and began opening the sideboard in which the silver was kept.

One of them had gathered up the costly Turkish rugs on the floor when Polly spoke out.

"Is that you, Frank?" she asked. The burglars stopped, and Polly repeated the question in a louder and more imperative key. By this time the noise had awakened her master.

He grasped a revolver and made for the head of the stairs, touched an electric button and lit the lights in the hall. Three men were struggling hardly through the front door.

Downstairs the master found Polly in her cage under the piano. The cage was upset, but the bird uninjured. He placed her right side up on the piano, when she lifted her frightened head from under her wing and asked again, "Is that you, Frank?"

The So Called Century Plant.

A widespread misapprehension exists about the so called century plant, which is that it blooms only at the expiration of a hundred years, says the Chicago News. Another misapprehension is that it takes the plant a hundred years to get its first flower and then blooms every year. Still another is that it is a cactus. The truth about the plant is as follows: It is an agave, not a cactus. It got its name, century plant, from the fact that it was formerly believed to attain its growth and bloom only after a hundred years, but it will mature in ten years with the soil and climate both favorable. In less favorable situations it matures in about seventy years. The plant is remarkable for one thing especially. It blooms as soon as it has attained its full growth, whenever that may be, and then dies. But the bloom is worthy of from ten to seventy years to produce it, for it has a stem about forty feet in height. No wonder it is called "agave," which in Greek means "noble."

Conundrums.

Why is a healthy boy like the United States? Because he has a good constitution.

When is a fish above its station? When it rises and takes a fly.

When is a tourist in Ireland like a donkey? When he is going to Bray.

What is the keynote to good manners? B natural.

Why is a short negro like a whites man? Because he is not at all black (a tall black).

Why is a hen walking like a conspiracy? It is a fowl (foul) proceeding.

What makes a pair of boots? Two boots.

What is the easiest thing in the world to break? Silence.

Poetical Butterfly.

This is a game played by any number of persons, one of whom, called the "butterfly," names the others after trees, flowers, birds or insects.

The butterfly pretends to fly from one to another, asking each for his story and then commenting on it as he pleases. Each of the players when thus addressed must give some quotation or mention some tale or legend about the tree, flower, bird, or insect which he represents. Thus the apple tree may allude to the story of William Tell and the robin to the cock robin, while the blackbird may quote:

Four and twenty blackbirds Baked in a pie.

The Sun and Moon.

Many boys and girls doubtless wonder why the sun and the moon appear larger when near the horizon than when well up in the sky. This question has always puzzled the scientists and has never been settled with absolute definiteness. Perhaps the best answer to the question may be given in the words of the eminent astronomer Herschel: "The dilated size of the sun or moon when seen near the horizon has nothing to do with refraction. It is an illusion of the judgment, arising from the terrestrial objects interposed or placed in comparison with them."

The Weather.

When the weather is wet we must not fret.

When the weather is dry we must not cry.

When the weather is cold we must not scold.

When the weather is warm we must not storm.

But be thankful together, whatever the weather.

Very few people use more than a small percentage of their lung capacity, a fact which tends to produce consumption, especially in school children.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:

Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Karsan, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from any druggist, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism.

As Rheumatism is not only the most painful and tortuous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will not doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.

Put this out-and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions, which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you want it badly.

FRYEBURG.

The K. of P. Hall.

The Pequot lodge, Knights of Pythias, opened its new hall on Elm street with a grand ball on Friday evening, Jan. 15. There was a large attendance of friends, in spite of the cold weather, coming from Stow and Center Lovell, as well as from Fryeburg and vicinity.

The exercises opened at eight o'clock with an enjoyable concert by the Robinson Family orchestra of Bridgton, assisted by Susan Walker, reader, and other musical talent. The program was as follows:

Orchestra: Arlene and Mollie Hutchins

Vocal: Charlotte Pitts and Carrie Hamilton

Piano: Susan Walker

Reminiscences: Susan Walker

Vocal solo: Leah Robinson

All the numbers were received with much enthusiasm.

The ball opened with a grand march led by Sir Knight William Durgin and Mrs. George H. Walker. Then followed the various dances for which the Robinson orchestra furnished excellent music.

The executive committee was David R. Hiley, Charles S. Mason and Richard C. Gaffner.

During intermission a delicious supper consisting of chicken and other delicacies of the season were served in the dining hall by the Pythian Sisters.

The executive committee in charge of this part of the entertainment was Mrs. Thomas Charles, Mrs. Clarence McKee and Mrs. Cassius W. Pike. The dancing was continued until a late hour.

A good sum was raised for the lodge and Sisterhood. The new hall is high and commodious, and the recent improvements have added much to its value for fraternal work.

Rev. Mr. Stone expected to return home about Jan. 25 from Dorchester, Mass., where he was with friends.

Arthur D. Newman has been in New York City taking the examinations for admission to West Point.

The Fryeburg Board of Trade voted to send in an application for membership in the State Board of Trade.

Mrs. T. L. Eastman gave a birthday reception on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 14 to her niece, Jessie Walker, a student at Fryeburg Academy. Ice cream and cake were served.

The Pythagorean lodge, F. & A. M. have had an architect to examine their hall in its new block, corner of Main and Portland streets and they expect to repair their building very soon.

Good Things Coming Our Way.

Some of the good local articles in the ADVERTISER next week will be "Letter from an Elderly Lady to a Young Girl," written by a lady born in Lowell; "Then You'll Remember Me," by a Gilead girl; "The Talkative Woman," by a South Waterford woman; "A Bit of Lovell History," by a man born in that town; "The Indian Stockaded Forts," by a Hiram man.

The theory that Arthur Gleason and Mrs. Arthur G. Snow had entered into a suicide pact was dispelled, owing to recent discoveries. Mrs. Snow committed suicide by drinking bi-chloride of mercury, according to the coroner's report, and from letters found among the woman's effects from her mother-in-law, Mrs. Henry Snow, and her little daughter in Pembroke, Mass., asking her to come home, it is believed she killed herself in a fit of despondency. Gleason died from the effects of wood alcohol. It is believed by his friends that he drank this by mistake, thinking it was a stimulant.

Col. C. H. Lewis, a Fryeburg boy, is holding a government position in the Veterans' Home in Napa County, California. His name stands on the quota of Fryeburg from 1861 to 1895; in the war of the Rebellion. Also he went through the Spanish American war and China war. His second enlistment in the Civil war was in a Norway Company, A. P. Noyes, Captain; Wm. W. Virgin, Colonel.

The inland fishing interests call for an appropriation of $50,000 for the propagation of fish, care of hatcheries and warden services. The State has well afforded to expend this sum for it to receive more returns for the money than from any other source. If we keep our lakes and ponds well stocked with fish visitors will continue to come and leave good money with us.

Hiram W. Ricker of Poland Springs returned from Naples on the Republic arriving in New York, Jan. 18th. With the earthquake and the sinking of the Republic, Mr. Ricker must retain in his mental vision of his trip abroad an association of disaster.

When You Take Cold
One way is to pay no attention to it; at least not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

"A Constructive Policy in Forestry Management" was the subject of her paper, which gave an outline of the methods and progress of forestry work. Mrs. Wheeler is on the federation committee on forestry, which is to have introduced in the legislature a bill to establish a State forestry reserve.
A hearing was held Wednesday before Walter L. Gray, esq., referee in bankruptcy, at the meeting of the creditors of Ezra C. Staples of West Paris. Mr. Staples ran a general store at West Paris. The creditors were mostly Portland wholesale firms and the indebtedness amounted to $3500. After the first step had received his insurance, sold the store lot and went to Boston to play in the stock market. On the 24th of November he was found on his hip pocket $3500. The hearing was continued for three weeks.

The various committees on the Good Cheer fair are busy at work soliciting for the various departments. The fair will be held March 10, 11, 12, in New hall, (rather an old hall) and the name will be The National Bazaar.
The adjourned meeting of the Citizens' Telephone Co., was held Monday evening. The matter regarding the forming of a corporation was considered and it was left in the hands of the president, John P. Plummer. The meeting was adjourned for two weeks.
The Good Cheer will have a Fair as per usual and the solicitors will soon be wending his way among the traders and business men of the two towns that he may help them to advertise whatever they may have to offer the public that is new, novel or common. If you turn away the solicitor it will not be laid up against you; if you give him an ad it will be received with thanks and carried to every house in your village.
The men's annual supper was given at the Congregational church, Tuesday evening and was a grand success in every way. There was a large number present to partake of the supper which the men prepared well, too. The program was carried out equally well and much praise is spoken of May E. Hancock of Casco for the very fine and interesting readings which she delivered. Program:
Readings.....May E. Hancock

ADVICE ON SLEEPING.
How to Secure the Most Perfect Repose.
During childhood and exhaustive states too much sleep is rarely possible. For those in full tide of vigor too much sleep is often distinctly hurtful, says Popular Science Monthly.
The action of narcotics presents none of the characteristics of normal sleep except the temporary arrest of consciousness; hence narcosis is not true sleep.
The best position to assume in sleep to invite the least disturbance of the functions of the great organs is on the abdomen or nearly so. Many obscure forms of digestive or circulatory disorders may have been initiated in infancy through lying too long upon the back.
To secure the most perfect repose the temperature of all parts should be equalized before retiring. Cold feet induce delay in securing sleep, and it is then shallow when attained, and it is unwise to overfill the stomach before retiring. This disturbs sleep almost as much as hunger, but moderate eating before sleeping is not hurtful and is often salutary.
Body clothing at night should be loose, not dense, permitting the ready passage of air, never of wool next to the skin. Bed clothing should not be too close of texture, blankets being preferable to dense "comfortables" and not "tucked in" too closely. Air should be allowed to pass occasionally under the sides at least as one turns about more or less freely.
Early rising is a salutary custom, especially when the day comes early, not otherwise. More sleep is required in winter than in summer. The best sleep is had during the hours of darkness.
The sleeping room should be cool, abundant air being always admitted. This should not be interpreted to mean that the room may safely remain intensely cold.
A simple remedy for illness of the nose is to add a little washing soda to the water in which the face is washed. The rich foods which cause pimples all afflict the nose, and the only permanent cure is a return to a normal diet.

BUCKFIELD.

Merritt Parsons, chairman of the board of selectmen and probably the oldest town official in Maine, died Sunday afternoon at the age of 86 years and 25 days. He was born Dec. 29, 1782.
He was reared on a farm and when a young man went to New Hampshire, where he had employment in a saw mill and where he married his first wife, Miss Carr of that state. Soon after his marriage he returned to his Hartford farm, which he greatly improved and on which he erected one of the finest sets of farm buildings in town, the result of his thrift and prosperity. During his residence in Hartford he spent some years in Lewiston in charge of a planing mill.
In 1872 he married his second wife, Hannah Moore of Nashua, N. H., who was a sister of the late Congressman O. C. Moore of that city. About twenty-five years ago he retired from active life in Buckfield village, which has since been his home. He was frequently a town official in various capacities in Hartford and since residing in Buckfield he has held the office of selectman and for many years has been a trial justice.
Mr. Parsons was the most remarkable type of physical and mental preservation in this community. For many years he had known no illness until about a month ago he was stricken with a partial loss of the use of his limbs, which gradually failed him until he died from apoplexy. He was a stalwart figure of a man, erect and broad shouldered and active at manual labor as a man of forty. In religion he was a liberal, in politics a lifelong Republican. During the past year he had been zealously active with the affairs of the town and deeply interested in the political campaign, attending and participating in both county and district conventions with as great zeal as if a young man.

Streaked Mountain.
Scott Briggs is hauling wood for Ben Taylor.
L. E. Monk has sold his big oxen to parties in Lewiston.
Shirley Bonney is moving to D. S. Turner's where he has hired out for a year.

The Dudley Brothers are cutting wood on the lot which they bought of Webster Maxim.
Mrs. Sibelius is visiting her sister, Mrs. Geo. Cook of South Paris for a few days.

SWEDEN.
A Brotherly Kindness.
C. G. Gordon and brother have thirty cords of wood at their door. C. G. while helping his brother Henry harvest his ice had the misfortune to slip on a cake of ice and was about to measure the depth of water. His brother Henry saw him as he was about to close the door about him, sprang with all his might, grabbed him by the collar and landed him some six or eight feet to the ice. As soon as he could speak, C. G. says, "Brother, if ever I gave you an unkind word, you will never hear another one from me."
Walter Stover is laid up with rheumatism.
Samuel Bryan of South Boston arrived in town Saturday last and will visit his parents some three weeks.
Callie G. Briggs visited his grandparents one day. He spent a part of the time in playing pieces from the Victor phonograph, which he enjoyed very much.
W. H. Gordon has secured his ice 500 cakes. Samuel Bryan has also put 400 cakes in his ice house. He sawed it and his son Will hauled it. "Uncle Sam," although past 50 years of age, has also cut and hauled to his door nearly 20 cords of four foot wood, a good example for the young men. He has cut several cords this fall for other people. He stands 6 ft. 3 inches in his stocking feet and is as straight as a candle.

WEST SUMMER.
The Fortnightly aid was well patronized, Friday evening.
Dr. Caldwell of Buckfield was called to see Mr. Skillings in the north part of the town, known as Redding, last Sunday.
There were several couples from this place attended the K. of P. entertainment at East Summer, Thursday evening, Jan. 21.
The New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. met Tuesday, Jan. 26. The old board of officers were elected excepting one director, Frank Warren of Buckfield instead of Orlando Irish of Hartford.
Winfield Bisbee's sister from Rumford visited them at their home a few days last week. It is very handy for those coming to and going from there to get on the stage. We should be very sorry to have this main route discontinued as it is very convenient. Mr. Bowker is an obliging mail carrier and we hope the post-office will remain as we have no use for an R. F. D.

H. L. Ryerson sold a pair of fancy steers.

BUCKFIELD.
Merritt Parsons, chairman of the board of selectmen and probably the oldest town official in Maine, died Sunday afternoon at the age of 86 years and 25 days. He was born Dec. 29, 1782.
He was reared on a farm and when a young man went to New Hampshire, where he had employment in a saw mill and where he married his first wife, Miss Carr of that state. Soon after his marriage he returned to his Hartford farm, which he greatly improved and on which he erected one of the finest sets of farm buildings in town, the result of his thrift and prosperity. During his residence in Hartford he spent some years in Lewiston in charge of a planing mill.
In 1872 he married his second wife, Hannah Moore of Nashua, N. H., who was a sister of the late Congressman O. C. Moore of that city. About twenty-five years ago he retired from active life in Buckfield village, which has since been his home. He was frequently a town official in various capacities in Hartford and since residing in Buckfield he has held the office of selectman and for many years has been a trial justice.
Mr. Parsons was the most remarkable type of physical and mental preservation in this community. For many years he had known no illness until about a month ago he was stricken with a partial loss of the use of his limbs, which gradually failed him until he died from apoplexy. He was a stalwart figure of a man, erect and broad shouldered and active at manual labor as a man of forty. In religion he was a liberal, in politics a lifelong Republican. During the past year he had been zealously active with the affairs of the town and deeply interested in the political campaign, attending and participating in both county and district conventions with as great zeal as if a young man.

A Brotherly Kindness.
C. G. Gordon and brother have thirty cords of wood at their door. C. G. while helping his brother Henry harvest his ice had the misfortune to slip on a cake of ice and was about to measure the depth of water. His brother Henry saw him as he was about to close the door about him, sprang with all his might, grabbed him by the collar and landed him some six or eight feet to the ice. As soon as he could speak, C. G. says, "Brother, if ever I gave you an unkind word, you will never hear another one from me."
Walter Stover is laid up with rheumatism.
Samuel Bryan of South Boston arrived in town Saturday last and will visit his parents some three weeks.
Callie G. Briggs visited his grandparents one day. He spent a part of the time in playing pieces from the Victor phonograph, which he enjoyed very much.
W. H. Gordon has secured his ice 500 cakes. Samuel Bryan has also put 400 cakes in his ice house. He sawed it and his son Will hauled it. "Uncle Sam," although past 50 years of age, has also cut and hauled to his door nearly 20 cords of four foot wood, a good example for the young men. He has cut several cords this fall for other people. He stands 6 ft. 3 inches in his stocking feet and is as straight as a candle.

BRANT'S POND.

Forbes-Thompson.
In the light and warmth of the parlor, in Mt. Abram Hotel, Locke's Mill's while outside were the Zig-zag wavings of a blinding snow storm.
And the white drifts on the window frames piled high.
And the cold winds came fiercely howling down the hillside.
Hunting the missiles with a mournful cry, the pupils were exchanged between George Forbes and Amy Thompson on the evening of Jan. 17, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Mr. Banghart of Bethel. The ring service was used.
The bride is 20 years of age, the only daughter of E. Thompson of this place, and has a bright vivacious personality. She has had some advantages of travel, lived in Manchester some two years, spent a year with relatives in Virginia, making the trip alone at the age of 14, lived in New York city for two years attending school on 123th street and held positions in different stores there. She also was a student at Hebron Academy, has taught in our local schools, and is not a stranger in the art of housekeeping.
The groom is of Scotch blood, the grandson of a Scotch Presbyterian clergyman, born and reared in the city of Aberdeen, Scotland. He is a steamfitter by trade, but is adaptable to many occupations. He came to America about two years ago, to friends in Lowell, Mass., worked at his trade in the Merrimack cotton mill, and came here about a year since, during which time he has made substantial friends, who with friends across the Atlantic, join in best wishes to the young couple as they set sail on life's matrimonial sea.

H. Alton Bacon has recently installed some new machinery in his planing mill.
Rev. Mr. McKenney of this village called on friends in the Whitman neighborhood, Jan. 27.
Allen Hathaway is attending high school here and boards at home, riding back and forth with his father, J. E. Hathaway, who is carrier on R. F. D. No. 2.
Lester Hathaway, the twelve-year-old son of J. E. Hathaway, has taken the contract to work up his father's woodpile. Lester is a boy with plenty of grit and will be likely to be heard from one of these days.

Oxford Bear Lodge, No. 54, K. of P.
On Saturday evening, Jan. 23d, the officers of Oxford Bear Lodge, No. 54, K. of P., were installed before a large company of about 150 members and their guests.
The installation ceremonies were impressively conducted by D. G. C. Fred Milton of Andover, assisted by a staff made up from the Past Chancellors of Oxford Bear.
Interpreting musical program was interspersed with the exercises, at the close of which a delicious supper of oysters, pastry and coffee was served in the lower hall. The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing.
This is an event which is always looked forward to with much anticipation as being one of the most enjoyable occasions of the season, and that of last Saturday evening was certainly no exception to the royal good time the Oxford Bears give their friends each year. The following officers will

MARK DOWN SALE of Men's Clothing

About this time of year you expect "clearing sales" and that sort of thing. They are offered you on every hand. Consider two things: the character of the store making the offer; the character of the goods offered.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

If you'll do that, we'll rest our case without further evidence. This store is known as a high quality store; we never have any other kind of merchandise to sell. We sell only clothing than we can guarantee. We're selling now the surplus overcoats and suits from our winter stock. The clean up of this season at prices below the actual worth of the clothes. There never was a better opportunity to buy good clothes than now and here.

Capt. Stiles of Co. D.

At the armory of Company D, Second Regiment Infantry, N. G. S. M., Friday an election of officers was held to fill the vacancy of captain, caused by the recent retirement of Capt. J. Walter Nash as major, after having been commander of the company since Oct. 9, 1898.

First Lieutenant Moses P. Stiles was elected to the position of captain, and Second Lieutenant Lyman H. Daugherty was chosen to fill the vacancy of first lieutenant, resulting by the election of Lieutenant Stiles. C. A. Marston was elected as the successor of Lieutenant Daugherty as second lieutenant.

Major George McL. Presson was the presiding officer.

Captain Stiles was previous to the Spanish war the commander of the company, but resigned and upon the returning of the company from the South rejoined the organization as an enlisted man. He by efficiency won promotion through the several grades of non-commissioned positions and was elected as second lieutenant April 2nd, 1906. He is accounted one of the best military marksmen of New England and has been the winner of several prizes in national competitions, while a member of rifle teams representing this state and of which he was always the coach.

Stephen Robinson is boarding at I. P. Cobb's on Green street.

Middle Intervale.

Ned Carter has lost a nice horse.

Maud Russell is with her parents this winter.

Mr. Casey, our soldier, is yet here. This is the first winter he has spent away from the National Soldiers' Home at Togus.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell of Portland are at the Alphonso Bean home where Mr. Mitchell has been ill some time. Mrs. Mitchell is a sister of Mrs. Bean.

A card from our sister Mrs. R. J. Coffin presents a fine view in red rock canon on Colorado Midland Ry. Mrs. Coffin has received the ADVERTISER and says, "I find much in it of interest." Mrs. Coffin is an Oxford county woman and loves the Pine Tree State.

BUCKFIELD.

Kate Mason has gone to Boston for the winter.

Mrs. Arlington Damon is in the Lewiston hospital for treatment.

Lincoln day will be observed by the school children and G. A. R. Post.

Herbert Elske of Boston has moved to this village with his family, occupying the rent in the Gilbert Tilton house.

Capt. and Mrs. Charles H. Prince will observe their golden wedding with their daughter, Mrs. A. F. Drummond in Waterville, Jan. 30th.

H. A. Irish and wife have started for California, and will pass the remainder of the winter with friends in the southern part of that state.

The vital statistics of this town for the past year show 15 deaths. Sixteen bodies have been brought here from other towns for burial.

A. S. Holland, for the past six years in the employ of Oren Hooper's Sons in Portland, has returned to Buckfield with his family and will resume his trade as painter and paper hanger.

The annual gentlemen's night of the Buckfield History club was observed at the residence of Edward G. Cole with a large attendance and a lecture on Nature subjects by Mrs. V. P. DeCoster.

HANOVER.

The Event of the Season.

The event of the season thus far occurred at Union hall, Friday evening, Jan. 15, when Mishemokwa Temple, No. 43, Pythian Sisters, held its installation of officers.

A very large company composed of the Sisters' families and friends, and the members of Oxford East lodge, K. of P., was present. The hall was prettily decorated in white, red, blue and yellow, the colors emblematic of the order.

Promptly at eight o'clock the retiring M. E. C., Mrs. Etta Smith, assumed her station and in a few well chosen words welcomed the assembled guests. The bugle calls were then given and the members of the Temple, the officers elect and the Grand officers entered the hall to the strains of an inspiring march followed by Mrs. Edward Martin, Sidney Wheelwright and Eddie Hain. S. Then followed a splendid exhibition of floor work by sixteen Sisters, which called forth hearty applause from the visitors.

The installation ceremonies proper are very pretty and impressive and were admirably conducted by Mrs. Harriet Stuart, D. D. G. C., assisted by Mrs. Alice Staples as G. S. and Mrs. Ada Hutchins as G. M. The following officers were installed for the ensuing year:

M. E. C.—Mrs. Etta Bartlett.
S. E.—Mrs. Helen Barker.
E. S.—Mrs. Octavia Bean.
M. of R.—Mrs. Eva Jayford.
M. of R. & G.—Mrs. Jennie Mitchell.
M. of R.—Mrs. Mary Holbrook.
P. of R.—Mrs. Sadie Lapham.
O. G.—Georgia Abbott.

The entrance of Flora, who was impersonated by Blanche Russell, attended by nine little flower bearers was indeed a pretty sight and was greeted with much applause. The closing feature which is the crowning of the officers by Flora and a tableau of the whole Temple is a beautiful ceremony and seemed to be most heartily appreciated by those present.

At the close of the exercises the hall was cleared and about sixty couples joined in the grand march, which was led by the newly installed M. E. C. and her husband. A pleasing order of dances followed and at intermission a delicious supper of oysters and pastry followed.

Mrs. Martha Bartlett has moved to her home at Bethel.

A. M. Brown is at work for R. A. Grover at Andover.

E. C. Holt is at work at Scribner's Mills, Rumford Center.

Mrs. Sarah Hutchins of Rumford Corner has been the guest of Mrs. H. N. Howe.

Jessie Howe, who has been spending several weeks at Bethel, has returned to her work at West Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Barker, who have spent two months with their daughter, Mrs. J. C. Dill in Houlton, have returned home.

Our recent rain and the warm spell thawed the ice in the pond brook and caused the mill owners to rejoice but after a few days' run they were again obliged to shut down.

Dr. Thomas Hill.

Dr. Thomas Hill, a practitioner of Willimantic, Conn., for 42 years, died the 22d of pneumonia. He was a native of Lovell, a Yale medical school graduate and served as a surgeon with the 27th Connecticut regiment in the Civil war. He was a member of the American Medical association and the National Association of Railroad Surgeons.

A pair of wildcats went through the village recently en route from Pennsylvania to North Waterford. Each was two or three times the size of an ordinary cat, and looked like an engaged Thomas of the Tippecanoe variety. They were consigned to L. W. Flint. It is reported that he has received no less than 20 during the past few months. He has a sale for them too. He recently sent a pair to England.

An Otter Feeding.

A correspondent of the London Field tells how he was once able to watch an otter on the feed in the Wyre for about half an hour. Attracted by what seemed at first like a large fish jumping out of the water at short intervals, like a porpoise, he presently saw that it was an otter on the feed. The water was running at about three miles an hour and was about two feet deep where the salmon were lying. The otter kept in the shallows and dived at intervals of some ten seconds, moving gradually upstream. Now and again there was a great splashing as a fish was caught and eaten. Once he landed and ran about on a small island, but soon resumed his fishing, with no attempt at concealment. The railway and a public road were near at hand, but nothing seemed to disturb him, nor did he once stop to look round for longer signals.

Celtic Melancholy or Joy.

In the Irish dirges and laments there is great similarity to the music of the west highlands, only the Irish music, having been written in most instances for the harp, which has all the notes of the voice, is a music of full and sweet harmonies and has not the omissions and deficiencies of the pentatonic scale in which all music for the pipes was written. While the melancholy of the Celtic people finds adequate expression in these laments—plaintive, wailing airs, something between recitative and melody—another and not less characteristic side of the Irish temperament is very truthfully illustrated in their songs of humor. About these there is an intimate raciness, a fresh and sparkling wit, a spontaneous ring of chaff and fun, with a dash of chivalrous sentiment and an airy lightness which gives to them the unmistakable Hibernian accent and to which there is no exact counterpart in the songs of England or Scotland.—London Saturday Review.

When Grass Grows Tall.

"Nature exercises a wonderful influence over men. Certain plants are poisons to some folks and medicine to others."

"Yes, and my husband is always troubled with rheumatism when the grass begins to get tall upon the lawn."

An inherited prejudice should be disinherited as expeditiously as possible.

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me. I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want the letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MOLDAN, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs. Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

CHRONIC COUGH.

Mr. Gray, of Elwood, Ind., Declares Vinol Cured His Daughter's Chronic Cough After All Other Means Had Failed.

SAYS SHE OWES LIFE TO VINOL.

"My fourteen year old daughter had a very bad cough, was weak, emaciated, and had no appetite. Two of our best physicians had done her no good. On advice I procured for her a bottle of Vinol and she soon began to improve. She continued until she had taken several bottles of it, and she has completely recovered her health."

"We undoubtedly owe her life to Vinol, as I am certain that if it had not been for it she would have been dead ere this. We never miss the opportunity of saying a good word for Vinol."

James Gray, Elwood, Ind.

Many cases like the above are constantly coming to our attention where this cod liver and iron preparation Vinol has cured chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis and built up health and strength for old people, delicate children, run-down, weak and debilitated people after all other means had failed.

Try Vinol. If it does you no good we will return your money; that's your guarantee, but we know it will benefit you. Frank P. Stone, Druggist, Norway.

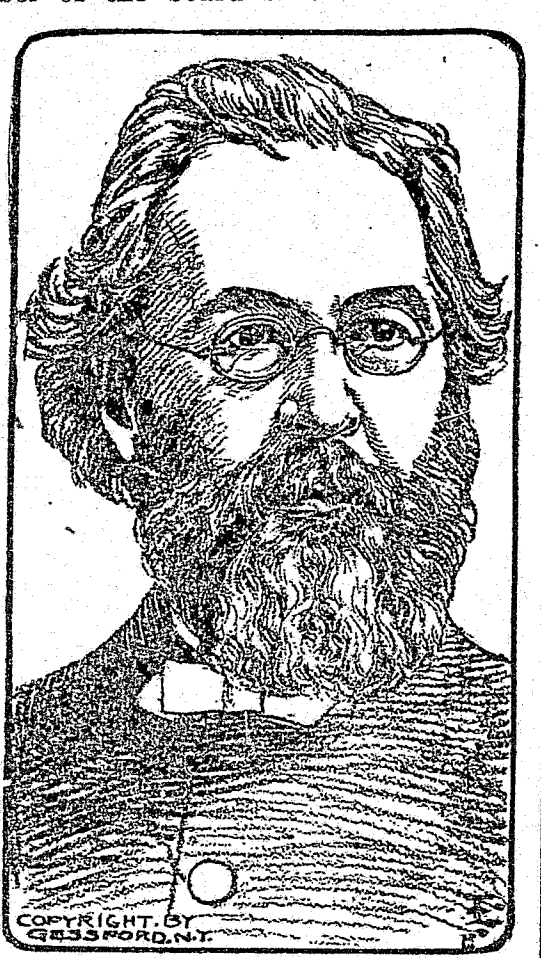

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

A Fearless Foe of Graft.

Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, who recently resigned as head of the Society For the Prevention of Crime, has long waged a determined fight against immorality and crime in New York.

The son of a schoolteacher and farmer in South Framingham, Mass., Dr. Parkhurst was born in 1842. He was called to New York in 1880 to become pastor of the Madison Square Presbyterian church, a pastorate he still retains. He began to look into the moral condition of the city when he found that he was having trouble in holding his young men in the church.

Dr. Crosby, then head of the society, enlisted the minister as a member of the board of directors of the Society For the Prevention of Crime and then started the crusade against police graft which ended in disclosures which startled the world.

In the course of his crusade Dr. Parkhurst secured evidence on which the grand jury found 11 indictments and a presentment charging the police with collecting blackmail in New York amounting to $7,000,000 a year.

The reform fight went on, and the chamber of commerce finally took a hand, passing a resolution calling for a legislative investigation of conditions. The Lexow committee was the result. The culmination of this activity was the defeat of Tammany in 1894.

It Ran Ahead.

Oscar Hammerstein was talking in Philadelphia about the wonderful success that he has had with opera.

"And yet at first," he said, "success came very slowly—as slowly as the trains on that southern line. You know the one. It doesn't advertise."

"I was waiting for the train in Nola Chucky one morning. One hour, two hours, three hours, passed. The train was three hours late. I was indignant."

"After awhile the ticket agent sauntered out of the office and lighted a cigarette."

"Look here," I said, "won't that train be along soon?"

"The agent looked down the track and yawned."

"Ah, yes," he said, "she'll soon be here now. Here comes the conductor's dog."

set at the capital. She is fond of outdoor sports and is a noted horsewoman, having begun this exercise on a pony at the age of five. Miss Elkins is described as tall and handsome, with a brilliant outdoor complexion and fair hair.

The Duke of the Abruzzi is the third son of the late Prince Amedeo, duke of Aosta, younger brother of King Humbert. He is therefore a cousin of King Victor of Italy. His father was for four years king of Spain. The Abruzzi is thirty-five years old and holds the rank of rear admiral in the Italian navy. He is a man of scientific and scholarly attainments and an interesting writer. The duke has won considerable fame as an explorer.

The Heart Can't Stand Rheumatic Acid Poisoning

The Uric-O Treatment Expels the Poison
from the Blood.

Those sharp, shooting pains through
the chest around the region of the heart
mean that poisonous uric and rheumatic
acid are there ready to spring and grip tightly the muscles controlling the heart's action. Don't neglect these warnings. You must neutralize and drive these dangerous poisons from the system, or sooner or later they will overcome you.

The only true way to cure Rheumatism is to get at it from the inside with Uric-O. It acts with marvelous swiftness upon the muscles, kidneys and blood. Cleans out the sand-like deposits in the muscles, forces the kidneys to perform those duties for which they were designed and neutralizes the acid
within the blood.

Uric-O is a liquid taken internally, 3 times daily, and does not contain any morphine, opium or other so-called
"pain deadeners." Sciatica, Muscular,
Inflammatory and Articular Rheumatism all yield readily to Uric-O.

It sells for 75c and $1.00 the bottle or you can obtain a trial bottle free by writing to The Smith Drug Co., 208

Misery in Stomach.

Why not start now—today, and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and Indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diapiesin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eruc-tations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and Dizziness,
and your food will not ferment and
poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents
for a large case at any drug store here,
and will relieve the most obstinate case
of Indigestion and Upset Stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and besides, one triangle will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food
the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapiesin works, your stomach
rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—
and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to begin taking Diapiesin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's
Diapiesin, because you want to be thoroughly cured of Indigestion. 25

Grows Hair on Bald Heads.

Bald Headed People May Get a New Chance in Life.

In these days when youth is the moving factor in business, when a man makes his mark at thirty-five and is ready to retire at forty-five; when business houses pension the man we call
"middle aged" rather than allow his lagging influence to intrude upon the commercial rush, a bald head is almost fatal to any man's hopes. The following must therefore prove interesting to people who are losing their hair or who are bald.

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ killers discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, and also creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp,
which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin is a well known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color,
where the loss of color has been due to a disease of the scalp. Yet, it is not a coloring matter or dye.

This combination of curatives mixed with alcohol as a stimulant perfects the most effective remedy for hair and scalp troubles.

The famous Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of Resorcin, Beta Napthol and Pilocarpin. It makes the scalp healthy, nourishes the hair, stimulates the follicles. Where the hair is already bare, it enters the follicles, revitalizes
the roots, supplies nourishment and stimulates a new growth.

We want you to try a few bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you
a penny if it does not give you absolute satisfaction. That's proof of our faith in this remedy and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except of course, where baldness has been of such long duration
that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over
and the scalp is glazed.

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93"
Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done to hundreds of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee. Two sizes 50 cents and $1.00. F.

A Positive Cure for Indigestion.

If you have indigestion, your food ferments in the stomach and bowels. It does more; it decays, and the nutritious matter which should go to make new blood, decays with it, and this leads to an impoverished condition of the blood,
to nervousness, biliousness, constipation,
sick headache, bad breath which dis-
gusts your friends, and other disagreeable and unpleasant conditions.

And all this trouble is caused by the fact
that food doesn't digest, but ferments
and oftentimes rots in the stomach.

And fermentation is caused by the stomach not being strong enough and energetic enough to thoroughly mix the food with digestive juices.

MI-O-NA is responsible for tens of thousands of cures. In fact, it is such a positive cure for indigestion and all stomach troubles that it is guaranteed
by Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, to cure or money back.
The price of a large box of MI-O-NA tablets is 50 cents, and they are sure to promptly relieve the worst case of in-

A Bit of Lovell History.

A Peep at the Revolutionary Heroes at Homes, and a Page from Memory's Pictures.

No. 5—WRITTEN BY JOSEPH ANDREWS.

In writing a sketch of a few of the pioneers of Lovell I shall quote extensively from the Lovell history, published by the Hon. H. F. Andrews of Exira, Iowa, in 1890. "The town of Lovell, in Oxford county, Maine, was the home of Capt. Abraham Andrews, Cpt. Samuel
E. Andrews and many of their descendants. It will not interest other branches of the family so much, but is briefly noticed here as the one spot upon which we look back upon as home, the scenes of youthful recollections, the home of many early friends who have been very dear through life, whose we were born
and reared to manhood.

Our relatives there embraced a wide acquaintance, including the families of Andrews, Hamblin, Stearns, Kimball,
Gordon, Fry, Fickett, Barker, Heald,
Benson, Kilgore, Abbott, Dresser, Mc-
Daniels, Pottle, and some others.

It was settled about 1788. After the Revolution Capt. Abraham Andrews, with his wife's uncle, John Stearns, they an old man about 70 years of age, and decided to begin taking Diapiesin. Tell
your druggist that you want Pape's
Diapiesin, because you want to be thoroughly cured of Indigestion. 25

Others soon followed them among whom were Anthon McAllister, Stephen Dresser, Joshua Whiting, Oliver Whiting, Joseph Heald and Samuel E. Andrews, a nephew of Capt. Abraham Andrews, who all came from Massachusetts. Their route seems to have been by the way of Concord, N. H. From that point there was a rude bridge path across the country to the woods south of the White mountains, made by Stark and his followers, probably, to Fryeburg, on the Saco river, a distance of about 80 miles, which place was settled about 1783; also by settlers of Massachusetts.
The distance from there to the central part of Lovell where the settlement was made was something better than a dozen miles—about 15 miles to the spot,
selected by Capt. Abraham. Fryeburg and Lovell have always been adjoining towns.

There is a large body of water running
nearly, if not quite, through the whole length of Lovell from north to south
ten miles or more in length, called Kezar pond, extending nearly to the Saco river, which in its meanderings in the town of Fryeburg traverses nearly 40 miles. These waterways must have greatly facilitated travel for the new settlers through an unbroken forest, in summer easily navigated by boats and rafts, in smooth surface of the ice in winter afforded a convenient highway, as many a boy of my time can testify who tried it on skates.

Samuel E. Andrews did not come by the Concord route but from the south,
by way of Buxton; perhaps may have come by the Saco river, and then across
his father's uncle, Jonathan Andrews,
had settled at Scarborough 50 years before
where there was quite a numerous family of relatives. The attraction for settlement at Lovell was the free lands of about 100 acres owned by Capt. Abraham. One of the free lots of 100 acres on the side of Sebatoos mountain and there built his house, the same place where Charles G. Andrews resided until within a few years since.

Benjamin Stearns first occupied the adjoining land, where Joseph Smith
now lives, and boarded with his brother-in-law Andrews. Afterwards he moved to the hill south of Lovell Center, sometimes called Dea. Stearns' hill, and made a farm occupying several acres for many years by his son of the same name, better known as Dea. Stearns, noted for his pure life, eminent faith, piety and active interest in religious matters. He died at his post of duty in the meeting house about 1879. John Stearns, a son of the first, occupied the same place
until, settled at Lovell Center and made
the farm afterwards occupied by his son,
David, for many years, where James Evans now resides.

Sebatoos mountain was named in honor of an Indian of that name who served as guide for Arnold's expedition to Quebec in 1775; by whom I am not advised. As Capt. Abraham Andrews and Samuel E.
Andrews, then a lieutenant in Capt.
Hutchins' company, were both in the expedition they may have known the Indian and named the mountain in his honor in recognition of his services
at that occasion. There is a tradition that an Indian once killed a wildcat, or catamount as they are called in that vicinity, on this mountain before
the settlement by the white people there.

It is said that the new settlers started from Fryeburg on a prospecting tour and that the first "Massachusetts soil" they discovered was in Lovell, meaning that the soil in Lovell resembled Massachusetts.

Isaac S. Andrews, commonly called "Uncle Isaac," related some facts which throw a few rays of light upon the early life of the new settlers. Concerning his father, Capt. Abraham, he said that he worked on his lot in summer, clearing up fields for cultivation, hewing down
an immense growth of forest trees and burning the wood, occupying many days to clear off even an acre of ground. The land when cleared trees were little better than a bed of stones. On such land
the settlers were enabled to raise small crops of corn, rye, oats, sometimes a little wheat, flax for linen, peas, beans,
pumpkins, potatoes and vegetables. It produced very good grass and hay.

In winter Capt. Andrews worked for a man named Evans, in Fryeburg, cutting and hauling pine lumber into the Saco river to be rafted down to the older settlements in Maine. He worked there during the week and on Saturday evening after the work was finished would take a load of provision and supplies
for the family on his back and travel
down the river to Kezar pond, then up the pond on the ice to the mill brook, on the east side, then up the brook by a path through the deep snow two miles
further to his cabin at Sabatos, arriving there at midnight or later. After a few days rest he would start on his way
on Sunday preparing fuel and attending to other necessary work for the comfort and support of the family during another week, and at night retraced
his steps to Fryeburg, 15 miles, in time to resume his work on Monday morning.

Such was the manner in which a hero of the Revolution was left by his country to support himself and rear a young family after spending almost his entire fortune and seven of the best
years of his life in active campaigns
to maintain the independence of his country.

The settlers of Lovell were poor and relied entirely upon their own exertions
for support. It must have been a struggle for existence to wring their support from such surroundings. They must have possessed a moral courage of an exalted kind to cling to such methods of living. On one occasion food became so scarce that they were obliged to dig up and eat the potatoes planted for until a supply of food could be obtained.

Before the Revolution Capt. Andrews owned a farm in Massachusetts and was in prosperous circumstances. At the close of the war this had nearly all gone
and his possessions were all in Continental money. He told of paying $25 for his breakfast at that time in such money, and of giving about $1,200 of the same kind for a heifer. No doubt his wife, Esther Stearns, came to her death
from hardships and privations to which she was not used in that new country,
in her efforts to rear her family. She had been well raised. The people of Massachusetts, before the Revolution,
had become prosperous and had comfortable homes. It was a terrible change to leave such a home and go down to a howling wilderness such as the backwoods of Maine then presented.
She was a soldier's wife and followed
where duty led.

This was not an isolated instance.
What was true of Capt. Abraham Andrews and his family was equally true
of other settlers of Lovell contemporaneous with him. We have much to admire in the fortitude, heroism and patriotism of our ancestors. Their days have long since passed and Lovell has since been the happy homes of nearly four generations of prosperous people.
"Their bones are dust, their swords are rust." It would be absurd for one who has visited the place but a few years
to disavow the history of the place
to those who have resided there during that period.

H. F. Andrews has also furnished me with a sketch of the McDaniels and Capt. Samuel E. Andrews' family, and as their history goes back to the dawn of Lovell's history it will not do to be interested to the natives of Lovell. John Mc-Daniels, the grandfather of Uncle John
McDaniels, was a Scotchman, who was a British soldier in the army of his surrender. He was one of the early settlers of Lovell and secured a settler's lot near the head of Kezar pond, where his son Samuel and grandson, Frank McDaniels, successively lived. He was a farmer and member of the church.

It is said of him that at one time he became convinced that he ought to be baptized by immersion and in his broken Scotch dialect said, "I have been sprinkled thra times but it done na gude, and now I'm going to be soond." He was a man of short stature but of great strength. It is said that it was his custom to carry two bushels of grain in a sack on his shoulders from his place at the head of Lovell's pond to Lovell village to mill and return.

John McDaniels, his son, married Catherine, daughter of Capt. Samuel Ingalls, and Hannah (Elden) Andrews of Lovell, and settled and improved a farm
adjoining that of her brother, Isaac Andrews, and on the shore of Kezar pond
at the foot of the mountain to the north, one of the rockiest places in Lov-
ell. Here he first built a hewed log house, which was afterwards used for a schoolhouse for the McDaniels and Andrews children. The school was taught by Dean Andrews (by the way, a half brother of your scribe) and it was here
that Uncle John McDaniels first learned how to read and write. There were eleven children, ten of whom grew up and married and most of whom settled in Lovell.

Uncle John McDaniels was at one time employed as a farm hand, and at one time when so employed, some young people gathered at the place where he made a farm and a social party. Sometimes the young gentlemen present had recently been enjoying the advantage of attending school and treated him in a patronizing manner as if he was the hired man. Athletic feats were in vogue at such gatherings and jumping was proposed. John had previously tested his ability in that line and knew what he could do, but looked on, a silent
observer of what the others were doing and how far they jumped. Finally they invited him to make a trial, which he modestly did, making one square footed jump which measured ten feet in the clear and several inches more than any of the others.

Capt. Samuel E. Andrews married Hannah E. daughter of Capt. John and Cath-(Sands) Elden of Buxton, Me. Capt.
Elden was a Revolutionary soldier.
Capt. Andrews settled in Lovell about 1788, immediately after his marriage on the place now occupied by his grandson,
Elden Andrews at the foot of Sebatoos mountain. He served as Captain in the 1812 war at Brownville, near Sackett's Harbor. His wife survived him and was blind many years. She lived with their son, Stephen, on the old homestead and was remembered as "The old grandma, dying at the advanced age of 102 years." They had thirteen children, ten of whom grew up and married and most of them settled in or near Lovell.

And now having quoted from the Andrews history and manuscript, a sketch of the Capt. Abraham and Samuel Andrews and McDaniels families, I will write what I can recall from memory of a few of my old time friends who belonged to the second generation of Lovell's old settlers.

Isabod Hamblin was born at Gorham,
Maine, and was a soldier of the war of 1812. He married Lydia Fickett and moved to Lovell in 1839. Their home on Hamblin's Hill was beautifully located,
and their family of ten bright, healthy children there were no laggards. All lived to be men and women and all married and had happy Christian homes of their own. I wish to quote again from the Andrews history a letter written by Winfield Scott Hamblin, the youngest
and only living member of the family.
It is a pen picture that will find a responsive chord in the hearts of a large number of Lovell's absent members. "I regard that no one has attempted a pen picture of the old homestead (of his fathers). We all do love it so well, as for myself, I never think of our old home without an instinctive desire to raise my hat in token of respect for it. It is a scene of sacred presence which bushes the soul, and fills the heart with peace and as I do the beautiful natural meadow
which lay to the east of the old home;
it was bordered around with trees of
delightful variety; a fine trout brook,
well stocked with fish, wound its way through its midst, with waving grass on either bank. On the north was the large mill brook of which you spoke, flowing
into the finest of all little lakes, Kezar
Pond, that lay to the west of the farm.
During the time I lived there, except in winter, scarcely a day passed that I did not look upon that little lake, which mirrored its beautiful border that rises high above its surface. I used to run the risk of breaking the Sabbath, in a Puri-can way, that I might behold it. The farm itself lay upon a cone about three hundred feet in height; to the west and slightly to the north lay the pond about a mile wide; north and west like the section of an amphitheatre were the foot hills of the White mountains, the smaller feet being bathed in its very waters.

In form like rose those ranges of hills
raised higher and higher, until we called them mountains, which still continued
to rise until they broke in white caps of snow, some twenty or thirty miles away,
then receding in airy undulations as they raised, as Richardson would say.
The scene was like a swelling sea wave
which a magician's wand had stretched transforming it instantly and holding it
in bondage evermore.

"Well do I remember the warm days
in June when hoeing corn and my hoe handle seemed to need rest, of looking far away over the scene and catching a glimpse of snow around Mt. Washington
so fair and white; it seemed very refres-
ing. Then near the building was a spring and beautiful pine grove which we used to call 'the pines,' that gave us such pleasure as a playground; it was a grateful shade in summer, and protected us from the northwest wind in winter; besides it was ever permeating
the breezes which went sighing and soughing through the branches, with its own balm of healing."

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Stanley have spent a few days in Hiram's Bitters at Hiram.
Clayton Sargent, son of Mr. and Mrs.
F. E. Sargent, Parker street, has been sick.

The piece of State road leading from Bridge to East Hiram, length 950 feet,
width 24 feet, average depth 15 inches,
amount of money expended by the road
commissioners in building this road was $420.25. Of this amount the town appropriated $137.50 the balance $282.75
was received from the state. We understand that our road commissioners have expended for the repair of highways
and bridges the past year about $750,
leaving a balance of some $250 in favor of the town.

EAST STONEHAM.

J. Bartlett and wife went to Norway,
Thursday.

Orrington Rowe was in this place,
Thursday, with fish and oysters.

John Stiles sold a pair of oxen to Will McAllister of Biddeford.

E. Sargent and 37 others of Hebron,
Paris, and Oxford asking for regulations
upon fishing in the tributaries to Marshall pond, Oxford county; also Petition of P. May and 30 others of Paris and vicinity praying for a law regulating fishing in Stony Brook and tributaries in Paris and Hebron, Oxford county, with accompanying bill; also petition of Geo.
Cole and 50 others of Greenwood and vicinity praying for a law regulating fishing in Overset pond, Oxford county.

Mr. Stanley of Porter: Petition of Charles P. Gray and 21 others relating to taking fish in Lower Kezar Pond,
Fryeburg, with accompanying bill.

Mr. Stanley: An Act to regulate the taking of fish from Lower Kezar Pond in Fryeburg, Oxford county.

Mr. Hastings of Oxford county: Bill,
An Act relating to the payment of tuition in secondary schools.

Mr. Lane: An Act to amend chapter

lar to the Douglas bill.

Mr. Lane of Paris: an act to regulate the length of trout that may be taken in lakes and ponds at nine inches; also an act to regulate fishing in Stony Brook
and its tributaries in the towns of Paris
and Hebron, Oxford county.

Mr. Hastings presented an act to prevent the pollution of water supplies and their sources. The act gives the State board of health general oversight of all inland waters used for municipal water or for supply, empowering the board to give hearings and providing full legal machinery for the enforcement of its degrees. The sum of $4,000 annually is appropriated to carry out the provisions of the act.

HENRY STEVENS.

Henry Stevens of Fryeburg died Jan.
22, aged 85 years. For the last few years Mr. Stevens has made his home

K. S. — George Farnham.

Immediately after installation a supper was served to about 200 people in the banquet hall. There were visitors from Bridgton, Harrison, South Waterford, East Waterford, Waterford, Albany, Norway, Stoneham, and Lovell. After supper there was a social dance with about 55 couples on the Grand march. All seemed to enjoy themselves and at a late hour started for home calling this one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

Mrs. L. A. Knight visited in Norway a few days.

Daniel LeBroke has returned from his visit to Lovell.

Mrs. Merton Hobson and daughter Leah, visited relatives in Paris last week.

Ralph Knight staid Friday night and part of the day Saturday at Henry Proctor's.

M. F. Knight and family visited at Mr. Daniel Brown's in Waterford, last Sunday.

Mrs. Nathan Biebee has returned from Portland, where she has been for several weeks.

Mrs. Roland Littlefield visited a few days at her mother's, Mrs. Etta Saunders of Albany.

Mrs. Sarah Perkins has been on the sick list for a few days, but is gaining at present.

Frank Charles and John Willis from Gilbertville have been visiting friends here a few days.

Will McAllister recently lost a horse. He has since purchased a pair of oxen to work in the woods.

Mrs. Etta Whitcomb and Mrs. George Kimball and three children visited Mrs. George Hobson, Friday.

Sadie Rowe's school has closed at Frye, where she has been teaching, she is at her aunt's, Mrs. Martha Biebee's.

Master Percy Nickerson was the guest of Bertie Moulton Thursday night, and attended the public installation.

Mrs. P. W. Sanders who is in poor health, has gone to Portland for treatment. Her son, Hersey, accompanied her.

Will Allen, a former resident of this place, attended the last Grange meeting and all seemed right glad to welcome him there.

Winfield McAllister took a pair of horses and went to Norway a short time ago and purchased a load of grain. As he is only ten years old I thought it worthy of mention.

Allegra Mabel, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Jones, passed away Jan. 21st at the age of one year, seven months and seven days. One could not wish her back as she had never seen a well day and never could. The funeral was at two o'clock Saturday p.m.

We think Winnie Knight had pretty good courage. After the big storm of last week he went on his knees to his school, a distance of ten miles. No teams had been through. It was go or miss school, and as he has been attending school nearly four years and come home every week and not missed, felt he didn't mean to this time.

EAST GREENWOOD.

Will Yates was here Sunday. He has nearly completed his job at Norway.

Quimby Perham has purchased the flock of sheep of Mrs. Cynthia Curtis.

Lydia Pierce of Norway, has gone to work at A. R. Allen's, Bryant's Pond.

Clinton Cole is very sick with heart disease. Gerald Swift is confined to the house with pleurisy.

Celia Pike is to work at Wallace Whitman's. Minnie is staying with her grandparents during Celia's absence.

After twenty-two weeks of poor health and last two weeks of painful sickness, Jacob Curtis passed away at his home, Sunday morning, Jan. 17, at the age of 66 years. He was a good, kind, and patient man withstanding his years of sickness. Not only will he be greatly missed by his family circle, but by a great many friends and his neighbors.

EAST FRYEBURG.

H. V. Berry is building a hen house. Milton Lord is visiting friends Bridgton.

Henry Warren is sick with the whooping cough.

Mrs. Gusta Thompson is visiting her mother, Mrs. Lydia Smith.

John E. Weeman and George Knights of Bridgton visited at W. C. Douglass', recently.

Local talent is preparing the drama The Country Minister to be played here in the near future.

WEST BUCKFIELD.

Mrs. Isaac Turner has the mumps. Loerna Winslow has returned from Auburn.

Ethel Bradbury brought her mother over from Norway Saturday night.

Grant Royal had a telephone put in his residence connected with the Mt. Micah line.

S. M. Bonney is going to work for Dastine Turner and will move his family there.

M. E. Bennett has finished working in the woods for Harry Buck and is working for Fred Cooper.

GILEAD.

Near Being a Bad Fire.

What came near being a bad fire was the burning out of E. T. Peabody's chimney. Help was summoned from the village and soon everything was all right.

Eli Peabody and A. T. Heath have both put in telephones of late, very handy things.

We are informed that Mrs. Eva DeCoster is about to exchange her house for real estate in Paris.

George Leighton's mill will be running in about four weeks, seems to be delayed about getting water.

We hear that Mrs. J. W. Bennett has been appointed to administer the estate of her husband, the late J. W. Bennett.

We were told by one of our store keepers, F. B. Co. that he has sold more goods this winter so far than any two months of the past winters. Frank is a hustler and a very accommodating fellow.

OXFORD.

Leon Cash visited Lewiston, Saturday. George Hazen was in Norway, Tuesday.

Sadie Goodyear visited Lewiston, Saturday.

George Jones was in Portland, Friday, on business.

Mrs. Frank P. Martin is suffering with a severe attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. Mary Bumpus made a business trip to Lewiston, Saturday.

Mrs. Belle Bennett was in Lewiston, Saturday, remaining until Sunday night.

Leon Crockett, a grammar school student, is quite ill and unable to attend school.

A party of eighteen attended the "Merry Widow" show at Lewiston, Monday night.

Mabel Lombard of High street, who has been confined to the house with illness for several weeks, is reported to be gaining.

Craigie Lodge, Knights of Pythias, held their regular meeting, Tuesday evening. There is a prospect of work in the near future.

Prof. Dyer, principal of O. H. S., left Friday evening for a short stay with his wife at the home of her parents in Hanover. Mr. Dyer returned to Oxford, Sunday night.

The personal effects of Willis Wing, lately deceased, were disposed of at public auction on Saturday, Jan. 23. George Cole of Norway acted as auctioneer.

There was very little of value outside of the stove wood.

Do not forget the drama given by the Pythian Sisters. It will be presented on Wednesday evening, Feb. 3, in Robinson hall. It is essentially a ladies' show as the entire cast of 14 consists of ladies.

The public should turn out and give them a good house.

Summer Wardwell of Minot was in town last week. Mr. Wardwell reports his business very good. He goes to Brighton nearly every week with one or more car loads of live stock and will pay a good cash price for any four footed live animal that is eatable.

Several members of Craigie Temple, Pythian Sisters, journeyed to Stoneham, Friday, Jan. 23, to take part in the public installation of the officers of the Pythian Sisters of that town. The party included Mrs. Sadie Bowser, Mrs. Geo. Cash, Mrs. Emma Holden, Mrs. Mamie Twitwell and Sarah Dunbar. The Sisters' installation was in the afternoon, followed in the evening by the Pythian Knights. The ladies had a most enjoyable time and were well entertained. A dance and supper rounded out the day's entertainment.

FORE STREET.

Will Boyd visited over Sunday with his wife at Al Twitwell's.

G. A. Bonnemant with his mother, is at home again after a week at Norway.

O. A. Lovering has been on the sick list for most two weeks, is gaining at present.

Mrs. W. Twitwell with a party of ladies, visited Minniehaha Temple Pythian Sisters at East Stoneham, last Friday evening.

Until you have heard the new Amberol Records you have not heard
the Edison Phonograph at its best.

AMBEROL RECORDS

for

Edison Phonographs

are Mr. Edison's newest and greatest invention. They are no larger than the regular Records, but hold twice as much music and play twice as long. They cost only 50 cents.

Every Edison Phonograph, except the Gem, can be equipped with an attachment to play these new Records as well as the old style. All new machines are equipped to play both kinds. There are new Records every month. There are now about 1500 of the old style Records and 80 of the Amberols. We aim to have all of them in stock so you can get the ones you want at any time. We have on hand all styles and sizes of Phonographs. $12.50 to $62.50.

We sell on installments.—A small amount down and $1.00 A WEEK till paid for.

NO NEED TO GO OUT OF TOWN
TO PURCHASE

You can find just as good an assortment and get just as favorable terms right here at home.

Come in and see the Machines and hear your favorite Records. If you cannot come, fill out attached coupons and mail to us.
